Dr. J. Stevens Kadesch

Superintendent of Schools

Message to Mr. Kendall . . .

Mr. Kendall has always been a kind and sympathetic friend to students at Medford High School. His tolerance and understanding on all occasions have won for him the esteem of the entire student body. The Class of 1942 feels justly proud to have had him as its Headmaster.

Foreword

In presenting this edition of "The Blue and White" it has been the sincere desire of the editors to preserve the real atmosphere of our graduating class within its pages. Attuned to the tempo of the times in layout and design, we hope that we have captured a touch of individuality, that we have made this manuscript really our own. We trust, with the passing of the years, that the turning of its pages, will still call forth a smile, or a fond sigh. If this is so, we shall feel that we have produced a worthy memorial of our Senior Class of 1942.

SENIOR ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Senior Advisory Council is composed of the officers of the Senior Class and one elected student representative from each Senior home-room.

The most important activity of the Council is the Senior Promenade, held annually in the gymnasium. Through the conscientious efforts of the members, this year's Prom was a great success. Those who attended the dance found delight and satisfaction in the results of the Council members' work. The orchestra, decorations, and refreshments were all pronounced excellent. The patriotic "V for Victory" theme was in evidence throughout. The Council voted not to present favors this year. Since the efforts of the organization are centered on this event, the dance stands out as its crowning achievement.

The Senior Advisory Council was directed by the able advice of Miss Katherine L. Baker and Mr. Eric Harrison, the class advisers.

Class History

I

Together on a warm and sunny morn,
We strolled at leisure through a country fair
When all at once we saw a gypsy maid
Who beckoned us while standing by her tent.
Curious, we drew closer to her side.
There in her hand she held a crystal ball
With three bright scrolls that lay therein
Which when revealed, contained the records of
Our high school days that we had written in
That spring of "42" before we left
The halls of Medford High to seek our way
In that amazing, war torn world.
Unrolling mine I saw once more the history
Which I had written of our Sophomore year.
This is what it said:
The sun rose bright that day in "39,"
As hopefully from every part of town
We stormed the heights which lead to our new school.
Bewildered, envying the Juniors and
The Seniors, we wandered through that labyrinth,
Our pride a little hurt because no longer
Felt we that honor of the year before
When we were idols of our lower grades.
But here in this huge place we were such Strangers in a land far stranger still
Of corridors enormous and prolonged
Where friend to friend recalled the summer's ecstasies.
To add to our perplexities we endured
The extra periods which were added on
Because of shortage of our rooms that year
For the new wing was not as yet complete.
But day by day the iron fingers of
The shovels and the bristling music of
The hundred saws prepared it for its fair debut.

Junior Officers

And now with awe we gaze upon our gorgeous hall
 Of shades of shell and blue so well adorned.
 Especially proud are we of the fact
 That we were the first upon that glorious stage
 Our officers of choice there to present.
 We can't forget the picture at our hop
 Of charming Janet Brandt and Betty Morgan
 Standing against a background of blue seas
 With Tony Novelline and our Ray Leeman
 So majestic in their tux and shiny shoes.
 Then came upon us Spring which brought with it
 Soon after June, and closed our first bewildered year
 Through which we laid our firm foundation for
 The coming years—the stone of early Latin
 The cement of good old French, along
 With the bricks of Mr. Euclid and
 The forms of prose and verse. With memories
 And visions of the next two years we left,
 With mind resolved to start our Junior year
 With fun and frolic mingled with our work.

II

I too, when I gazed in the crystal ball
 Found there a scroll to help recall once more
 The second year we spent at M. H. S.
 The happy afternoons at football games,
 The long and faithful hours we spent in study,
 The gay events that with the springtime came.
 Let's read what here the Gypsy girl has found:
 Remember where the crowd was bound that day,
 With mufflers round their necks; with noses red?

Sophomore Officers

Fine snow had covered the ground ten inches deep,
 And it was Turkey Day; the time was nigh
 For Mustangs strong to match their strength against
 Our ancient rival Malden, the jinx to break.
 And break they did, mid drifting snow and cheers.
 What a glorious day was that November Morn!
 Let's move from football field to ballroom where
 Shamrocks green splashed honest color on a background white.
 Remember now our Junior Prom in March
 With whistling wind outside but music gay
 Within? Glance to our right where we can see
 Our president Paul Sweet agog in his
 First tux, heading the long receiving line,
 While Donald Kuehl, our treasurer that year,
 Took care of money matters on the side.
 Our other officers in forth-one
 Were Daun Lundstedt and Betty Brugman too.
 We danced that night until the clock struck twelve
 When favors were to every girl bestowed.
 Then Cinderella-like we left the ball
 And with as ne'er forgotten memories.
 From fun we quickly turned our minds once more
 To further records of our second year.
 From every Junior Class one girl is chos'n
 As the most versatile in books and play,
 To whom Elmira College yearly gives
 A medal to reward her for her work.
 This prize was won by charming Nancy Nelson,
 Who earned the honor due our class that year.
 The days rolled by so swiftly, til at last
 Came Senior Class Day, where not only they,
 But lucky Juniors also played a part.
 The Junior girls in softly colored gowns
 Lent beauty to the scene and led the march
 While carrying green boughs from Daphne cut.
 Our boys as ushers proudly did their share
 To make the Senior Day a great success.

Seasoned now, with fingers firm, our hand
 Reached forth to grasp the latch of Senior year.

III

Another scroll the gypsy gave to me. It read:
 Remember now the fall of forty-one
 When we returned to rule at Medford High,
 To cap our public school career with pride.
 Fall brought to us, of course, high ranking sports
 Whose standards both the boys and girls upheld.
 For Malden bowed in six contests that year,
 Four times to boys and twice to our fair girls.
 In fact, few did well against our teams;
 For were not we the class of forty-two?
 Remember too, during those days of joy
 How Joseph Buono led the class with skill.

His was the task of planning gay events.
 To aid him nobly with the prom that year
 Radiant Joan Moore, a fine assistant made.
 Keeping a record of our class affairs
 Was Betty Morgan's job, a job for fluent pen.
 As treasurer Bob Drennan was the tops
 For he could count as well as hold the line.
 These officers of whom we are so proud
 Greatly deserve the plaudits of the class.
 Led by their fine example, we did our best
 To endow the blue and the white with merited fame.
 To brighten up the months of cold and sleet
 Our glamorous girls lured the boys to Take them to the Senior Prom.
 Heaping success upon success the class
 Presented a play of Hollywood fame.
 Our "You Can't Take It With You" needed not
 A Barrymore, a Jimmie Stewart, or a Jean Arthur,
 For Morrill Ring, Joe Pigott, and Mary O'Donnell
 Acted their parts to the life, to the letter, to the Nth degree.
 A little later when danger menaced our free shore
 Several of our classmates left to join the colors.
 Robert Bernier, James Connors, Ronald Griffen, Stanley Greene,
 Delbert Grover, John Pettee and Arthur Reardon
 Immortalized the class of forty-two.
 Six students, charming yet learned maidens,
 All achieved success scholastically, as they Maintained an average of ninety-seven
 For a period covering all three years.
 In proud salute we cite these maiden's fair—
 Gulie Baldini, Constance Carelf, Betty Drauschke,
 Mary Duffy, Barb Gilbert, and Janet Schultz.
 Such was the honor roll!
 The spring brings forth memories of confusion
 As registering and rationing took place.
 May was opportune for girls again;
 For with it came the final Senior dance,
 This truly was the upperclassmen's treat,
 Since they all attend this merry ball.
 Sometimes within our ranks
 A note of sadness comes to dim our joy.
 This fall our Master called a classmate
 When Louise Brown was taken from our midst.
 Reluctantly we bid farewell to one
 Whom we admired.
 As we turn to leave the halls of M. H. S.,
 We pause thoughtfully to express a word
 Of thanks. Now with the training our school so Freely gave, we face with courage all the Future holds.

The Senior Prom

January 23rd, an undercurrent of excitement was running through the student body at M. H. S. There were restless murmurs, whispered plans, frequent glances at the wall clock creeping slowly toward one-thirty. And the cause of all this stir? Why, the biggest event on the school calendar was at hand—The Senior Prom!

When the last recitation of the day was finally over, the energetic Prom Committee hurried off to the gym to attend to the last-minute details, arranging chairs, hoping that everything would run smoothly in the evening.

At last the hands of the clock told the magic hour of eight! Gay young couples began arriving at the gym, the boys handsome in their smartly cut tuxedos, the girls radiant in their attractive new gowns. Each couple was presented with a program bearing the famous V for victory symbol. On entering the gymnasium, they were at once impressed by the beauty of the decorations. Flags and bunting in our national colors completely transformed the familiar appearance of the hall. Even the red-white-and-blue uniforms of our popular band, The Regimentals, were in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the Victory Prom.

Waiting in the receiving line to welcome the boys and girls were Class President Joseph Buono and Florence A'Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. Weldon, Miss Mary G. Dolan, Mr. Richard Phelan, Miss Mildred C. Donnellan, Mr. Edwin F. Pidgeon, and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Harrison.

The signal for dancing to begin was given at eight forty-five when our class officers, Joseph Buono, Robert Drennan, Joan Moore, and Betty Morgan took the floor with their partners. Other couples joined them and soon the floor was filled with a happily dancing throng.

Then, the big moment of the evening arrived—the Grand March! Swinging along to the strains of Anchors Away, couples joined in ranks of four, eight, and 16, until finally 32 boys and girls, led by our handsome class officers, marched into the focus of Mr. Vantine's camera.

At ten-thirty, ice cream bearing the victory V was served. Dancing then continued until twelve o'clock, when, with the playing of our National Anthem, the evening drew to a close.

The Class of 1942 wishes to thank Miss Katherine L. Baker and Mr. Eric Harrison for their tireless efforts to make this year's Prom the success that it was.

CLASS DAY

The Junior Marshals and Ushers are chosen each year for a dual purpose; first, to add beauty and gayety to the three important Senior Class occasions, and second, to permit a group of outstanding undergraduates to take an active part in these functions. This year, for the first time, the class officers chose the ushers as being representative Junior boys; however, as always, the group of marshals was comprised of selected girls, one elected from each homeroom.

Attractively costumed in gayly flowered dotted swiss gowns, the girls had the privilege, on Class Day, of leading the Seniors from the auditorium to the lawn where the traditional exercises were held. Picturesquely arranged on the school steps, they made a colorful background for the speakers. At Graduation again, the girls preceeded the Seniors into the hall and formed an aisle through which the graduates passed. The duties of the marshals at the Senior Reception were twofold; they escorted the guests to the patrons and patronesses, and for the grand march they made an aisle through which the merry throng passed.

The boys, attired in blue coats and white flannels, had many and varied duties on Class Day and at Graduation. They were in charge of greeting the parents and friends of the graduates, seating those guests, and distributing the programs. The ushers were the guests of the Senior Class on the night of the Reception.

Senior Class Play

On February 19th and 20th the Class of 1942 presented "You Can't Take It With You," a comedy in three acts, under the able direction of Mr. John A. Ricker, Jr.

The leading role of Martin Vanderhof, the gruff old gentleman who ruled over the Sycamore home with benevolence to all, was portrayed brilliantly by Morrill Ring. Penny Sycamore, the flighty mother of the Sycamore family who was constantly writing plays and displaying a hidden talent for portrait art, was hilariously played by Alice Pepe.

Tony Kirby, the youthful millionaire vice-president of Kirby and Company, Wall Street, who fell in love with beautiful Alice Sycamore, was brilliantly enacted by Joseph Piggott. Mary O'Donnell, as Alice Sycamore, the lovely fiancée of Tony Kirby; he endeavored to make her irrational family serious.

Arthur Reardon as Paul Sycamore, Alice's father, a manufacturer of fireworks, kept the audience on edge with the noise of terrific explosions. The audience greatly enjoyed Paul Garland, portraying Mr. DePinna, the iceman, who visited the Sycamore abode eight years ago and never left. He was also the able assistant of Mr. Sycamore in the fireworks business.

Margaret Kenefick, as Essie, the toe-dancing sister of Alice, who was always making candy and springing wisecracks, made a contributing factor to the play. Saul Hirshberg, or Ed, a foolish-minded individual who played Beethoven's music and called it his own, was certainly excellent.

Class Oration

During our three years at M. H. S. we have been preparing for our various careers in an atmosphere of friendship and gaiety. While learning to respect the rights of others, to maintain our own ideals, and to elaborate upon our own ideas, we have looked forward to that day when we should establish ourselves in a peaceful world. But now, as we look about us, the skies are grey with war clouds, fields are red with innocent blood, and nations are grim with hatred. Mankind is, at present, being governed by laws of death and ruin rather than by the natural laws of peace, of labor, of salvation. It would be superfluous for me to point out to you, fellow classmates, that this is war—that this is our war. The responsibility is great, but we, the youth of America, will either win or lose according to the amount of determination with which we meet this challenge.

Previous classes, upon graduating, have immediately sought their own opportunities, chosen their own fields of specialization, and found their own openings. As we leave high school this year, however, we find ourselves afloat on the waters of a restricted sea lane. At present we shall not be able to choose our own ways in life; rather we shall find our courses charted on this sea of national emergency. Since planes, guns, and ships must be produced and men must be trained, we must unite, regardless of our individual desires, in order to meet our nation's demands. During these trying times the billows about us may become dark with despair and rough with occasional defeat, but American courage and perseverance have before, and shall again, overcome all difficulties and obstacles. Then, one day, our ship will suddenly cease tossing on these waves of warfare, and before us will lie the open sea. The skies will brighten; the waters will become calm.

We shall then set sail for our own ports of destiny, taking our places in a preserved American civilization. Upon our shoulders will fall the responsibility of rebuilding a normal business and industry, subordinated during the present emergency. Chemistry will be needed to advance public health and to bring about better living; engineers will be in demand to carry on internal improvements; business men will be at a premium to reorganize our national and international trade; teachers will be necessary to instruct future generations; and career women will be vital to the success of readjustment.

You may ask, "Just where shall I fit into this mammoth plan?" True, our places are regimented today either in defense work or military service. We have been deprived of many luxuries. We have come to the realization that civilian cooperation is just as vital to our success as is military efficiency. Willingly have we imposed limitations on our selves. We have cheerfully bought defense bonds. We have learned to keep secret information that might aid the enemy. We have worked together in a common cause. If necessary, we shall sacrifice our lives when our country calls. This discipline, however, will serve only to harden us for the future. We have our high school training, a valuable asset that cannot be taken from us. We shall be able to apply this training effectively following this conflict, for we shall then appreciate the value of a world at peace, a world which you and I must lead.

A world at peace—this phrase sounds like an unbelievable dream at present with the entire universe at war. However, wars are not new; in fact, they have taken place ever since the beginning of mankind. Even during the short span of American history our country, a democracy, has been engaged in many international disputes. Yet, her democratic form of government has stood. Let us not fear that the world will fail to right itself; that our way of life will end. A heart of love and a will of steel will insure the preservation of our heritage of freedom.

Even during these times of war, a large share of our freedom remains to us which scarce obtains in any other nation in the world. We can give our opinion without being thrown into prison, we can print impartial newspapers without interference, and we can worship as we wish without being shot. We do not think that these rights are extraordinary, for they have always constituted the American way—the way of free men. In many countries also maintaining these principles, the people have suddenly lost all liberties. Foreign powers have stepped in and enslaved the entire populations. It is against this oppression, the mad desires of half-crazed leaders, that we are fighting. We shall win this fight because a free will is just as much a part of an American as are his vital organs. You may ask why I am so sure of victory when, at present, conditions are so dismal. I am optimistic because I agree with the principles of the author, John Steinbeck, when he says, "Free men cannot start a war, but once it is started, they can fight on in defeat. Herd men, followers of a leader, cannot do this, and so it is always the herd men who win battles and free men who win wars."

In the present terrific upheaval there are two things, fellow Americans, of which we may be positive; first, that we must suffer our share of blood, sweat, and tears; second, that only our undaunted efforts will regain and preserve our peaceful heritage. Although we must undergo these hardships and trials, we may be sure of a bright future if we maintain our American faith.

"Hands off! stand back! Leave us alone!
You shall not rob us of our own,
We will be free! We will be free!
God and right our standard be!"

Ivy Oration

In pleasant accord with the custom of many years, our class officers have carefully set in the solid earth the leafy, green plant symbolic of everlasting life. Now it is our privilege, as Milton says, to "Direct the clasping ivy where to climb."

When in the fall of '39, the Medford system of public education deposited us at the portals of the high school, there were many dubious remarks from the cynical upperclassmen. "Look at those Sophomores!" they cried disparagingly. "They get younger every year!" Perhaps this concern was warranted, for there we were, curious, uncertain, yet eager to test our powers against those of our elder brothers.

Just as the ivy shoots upward in a gloriously confident manner, so we entered upon our high school life. To be sure, we floundered at first, and exhausted ourselves in futile attempts to discover the swimming pool and the elevator. It was not long before we became acquainted with the mysteries of the building and the idiosyncrasies of high school teachers to whom we were no longer Marys and Johns, but more formally "Miss Smith," "Miss Brown," or "Jones." Before the year was over, we felt a sense of proud ownership for the beautiful new auditorium, the library with its cozy nooks in which we could review our Latin translation, escape the monotony of a study room, or surreptitiously enjoy a friendly chat. True, we found there were occasional restrictions on our liberties, for when we answered the call of the wanderlust and were caught in the vicinity of the Square, we were promptly told about "in and out of bounds."

Nevertheless, we have been wonderfully free. In these three years of trial and error we have been privileged to choose our own course of study and to select the subject within that course. We have elected our officers and delegates to the student council, and have delved into sports and clubs at will. In short, our way of life has been much to our liking.

The class ivy, newly planted, will take firm hold and climb untrammelled over the face of the building. May it express in some tangible way our realization of the unlimited rights and privileges which characterize our school and our country. Today our precious heritage is being challenged. All that we have studied for, worked for, and lived for is imperiled. Long before the length of the ivy's association with this grand edifice equals ours, may the clouds of war lift. To our LAND OF LIBERTY, everlasting life!

Class Poem

TO YOUTH

You have come to a mighty magnificent wall;
A barrier, it stands, in the course of your way;
But this fateful hour yields a passing for all:
The portals stand wide for your entry today.

Beyond, there lies Life, independent and free,
A challenge for you who are eager and strong,
Who can walk the straight path unwaveringly,
With a firm will of iron, unruined by wrong.

Go forth through the gates, then, with Honor, your guide:
Let her lead you where trails are too dim for mere sight;
Keep Goodness and Faith ever close at your side:
They will furnish a beacon through on-coming night.

And when shadows, at last, from your path fade away,
And, in calm reminiscence, you rest after strife,
Think not of the hardships o'ercome on the way,
But of joy and success in a full, happy life.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The G. A. A. concluded a successful and happy year under the leadership of Marguerite Baeyens and the able guidance of Miss Neilson and Miss Luce. Marion Bishop, Chairman of the Social Committee, arranged many varied and interesting meetings. This year the club enjoyed a number of unusual events. Early in the fall the girls attended a delightful performance of The Student Prince at the Metropolitan Opera House. Later, a social was held for the girls' mothers, at which time a demonstration of Modern Dancing was given by the Newton High School Dance Troupe. At the Christmas party there were interesting color pictures of ice-boating and sailing on the Mystic Lakes by Mr. William Neilson; in January, a skating party at the Bal-A-Roue; and in the spring a program of moving pictures, presented by John Ward, folk dancing, and the annual banquet.

The officers were President, Marguerite Baeyens; Vice President, Jean Frazier; Secretary, Marie McCarron; Treasurer, Mary Jennett; Faculty Advisers, Miss Neilson and Miss Luce.

Our best wishes to the future G. A. A.!

Worcester Classical 6

Medford 0

Saturday, Medford High School met a formidable foe at the Carral. Medford throngs anticipating victory were shocked to receive a stinging defeat at the hands of a victorious Worcester eleven. In the last quarter of the game, the foe, gaining the ball on Medford's 20-yard line, passed to their left end who went over for a touchdown. The point after was blocked.

October 2, 1941

Medford 25

New Bedford Vocational 0

The Medford Mustangs coasted to an easy 25—0 victory over an outclassed New Bedford Vocational team Saturday at the Fulton Street grounds. Flashing a powerful attack both on the ground and in the air, and paced by classy individual performances by John Malloy, Henry Corrado, and Phil Sanford, the Mustangs were usually on the offense and kept their opponents bottled up in their own territory throughout the game. It was Medford's first victory and a complete reversal of form over their opening game.

October 9, 1941

Brockton 6

Medford 0

Although thoroughly outplaying its rivals, and holding a large edge in statistics, the Medford High football team dropped a 6—0 decision to a Brockton High team which capitalized on its only scoring opportunity. Twice the Mustangs were at the lip of the Brockton goal line, and twice they muffed glowing opportunities to push over a score. From a Medford standpoint, its heroes deserved to win, but were simply outbuckled by a Shoe City aggregation which scored on two long forward passes midway in the fourth period.

October 16, 1941

Medford 21

Somerville 6

Playing an aggressive type of game, the Medford High Mustangs crushed the Somerville High School team 21—6 at Fulton Street Field before an overflow crowd on Columbus Day. The Mustangs took a 7—0 lead in the second period as the result of a Corrado to Malloy pass. However, in the second half, Henry Corrado, fast becoming an outstanding fullback, literally tore the Somerville line to shreds and crushed through almost at will for two more touchdowns. All in all, the Red and Blue were thoroughly outplayed and never had a chance to upset the Mustangs who could easily have run up a much larger score.

October 23, 1941

Chelsea 0

In a drab and uninteresting game, the team pinned a 20—0 defeat on the Chelsea High School eleven Saturday at Chelsea Memorial Stadium. Although M. H. S. was held scoreless for about 18 minutes of the first half, the Mustangs pushed over a touchdown in each of the last three quarters and held the Red Devils at bay. While it is difficult to single out any individual heroes, the play of Russ Murphy in the line and Al Cannava in the backfield were outstanding. As it was, the Medford total would have been much higher if it had not been for the fine kicking of Chelsea's Karonis, who played well in a losing cause.

October 30, 1941

Medford 14

Everett 8

Medford High downed the Everett High School grid warriors, 14—8, Saturday, at Everett Stadium. Offering a dazzling display of speed, power, and deception, the Mustangs were too strong for the men of Denny Gildea. Although Everett took a 2—0 lead in the first period by virtue of a safety, Medford came from behind in the second period to push over two quick touchdowns and sew up the game, in spite of the fact that Everett, sparked by Rudy Romboli, managed to score again in the closing minutes of action. Corrado's threadneedle passes, Malloy's great kicking, and Chamberlain's fine ball handling were instrumental in the victory of the Mustangs, who continue to show marked improvement.

November 11, 1941

Medford 25

Cambridge 0

Showing a vast superiority in all departments of the game, the Medford High football team trampled a weak Cambridge High aggregation by a count of 25—0 at the Fulton Street grounds on Monday. Paced by the brilliant running of Al Cannava, the Mustangs, although evidently winning under wraps, crushed their opponents with a display of sheer power. Chamberlain, Sanford, Corrado, and Cannava each scored a touchdown in this game, which was added to the standing of the Mustangs.

November 13, 1941

Waltham 0

Medford High defeated a stubborn Waltham High eleven, 7—0, at Waltham on Saturday last. Holding a large edge in the statistics, the Mustangs pushed over their touchdown in the closing minutes of play, and threatened to score on two other occasions. This last period drive was sparked by Al Cannava, who, from the Waltham 10-yard stripe, flipped a pass to Bill Chamberlain, who took it on the 4-yard line, and raced the remaining distance to score. Malloy then kicked the point. The play was called back, however, and Medford penalized 15 yards for pushing. Jackie then stepped back and booted a beauty from the 25-yard line. Cannava's passing and hard running, Chamberlain's usual fine performance, Malloy's line smashing, and the strong defensive play of the Medford line were the highlights of the game.

November 18, 1941

Arlington 0

Striking quickly through the air in the first quarter, the Medford High School football team topped the powerful Arlington High gridders, 6—0, at the Fulton Street Grounds. Henry Corrado's two passes, one to Phil Sanford on the Arlington 20-yard line, and one to Frank Slattery in the end zone, proved to be the margin of victory. Brillante, Aulenbach, and Flynn led the Arlington attack, which continually sputtered and petered out near pay dirt, and only a very alert Medford defense, coupled with over anxiousness on the part of the Arlington pass receivers, prevented it from resulting in touchdowns. Nevertheless the Mustangs refused to wilt with their backs to the wall, and they showed good defensive agility in stopping Arlington's strong running and passing game.

November 24, 1941

Malden 0

Ending a successful season in glorious fashion, the Medford Mustangs defeated the Golden Tornado of Malden by a score of 6—0, at the Fulton Street grounds on Thanksgiving morning. Finding themselves on the Malden 9-yard line midway in the second quarter, as a result of a spectacular 67-yard run on an intercepted pass by center Paul O'Brien, the Mustangs scored on one quick play, which was an end run by Malloy. Previous to O'Brien's epoch-making run, the Tornado had staged a furious march, on forward passes, to the Medford 6-yard line, where Captain Russ Murphy made a valuable interception.

In the third period, Medford began a march of its own which carried to the Malden 20-yard stripe, but then it fizzled. The game seesawed on until the closing two minutes of play, when Andy Lipnosky, who played a magnificent game in a losing cause, received a punt on his 25-yard line and raced wildly down the left sideline for what looked like a certain touchdown, but Bob Drennan knifed through to knock him offstride on the Medford 6-yard line, and Frank Slattery then pulled him down with a game-saving tackle. At this point, however, the Mustang line, showing its invulnerability, rose to great heights to stop Malden in its tracks for four downs, and took over on the 8-yard stripe.

Bill Chamberlain, clever signal-caller who gave another fine all-around performance; Jackie Malloy, tailback and scorer of the winning touchdown; Bill Trainor, a fine blocking back; Henry Corrado, carrying on gamely with a bad knee; and Al Cannava, running again like a wild man, deserve a great deal of credit for their fine play. Captain Russ Murphy, Frank Slattery, Bob Drennan, and Paul O'Brien were the shining lights in the powerful Medford line, which stood firm with its back to the wall, and definitely stamped itself as one of the strongest forward walls in schoolboy football.

This year the soccer team, winners of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Soccer League, has been one of the best ever. In the league the team won five games, tied two, and lost one; outside the league the team had three victories and but one defeat. Much of their success is due to the splendid spirit the whole squad showed throughout the season. From the combination of Mr. Stillman's fine coaching, three returning lettermen, and the great improvement of inexperienced players, resulted this excellent record. The team held its annual Sport Night at the Medford Theatre on November 25, 1941.

Winning 9 of their 12 games, the Medford High Hockey sextet proved itself one of the outstanding ice aggregations in New England.

Their first line, comprised of Joe Riley, Phil Sanford, and Hube Davis, highlighted the Medford offense, which was very strong. Dick Desmond, inexperienced sophomore goalie, surprised by developing into a very hard man to beat in the nets. In addition to its regular Greater Boston League schedule, Medford played Andover and Exeter Academies. Both of these games ended in Medford victories.

Thus Medford developed into one of the strongest schoolboy hockey powers of the year by rolling up a total of 49 goals against the high-grade opposition always found in the G. B. I. circuit.

Indoor Track

Coach, Henry D. Hormel

Captain, Fritz Sabbow, Jr.

Manager, Ralph Lynch

The Medford High Track Team, under the tutelage of Mr. Hormel, enjoyed one of its most successful indoor seasons in recent years. The boys made an excellent showing in the Northeastern, State, and Andover meets, ringing up a total of $37\frac{1}{2}$ points in the three meets. Medford dropped only one dual meet during the season. Lawrence was the winner, but except for the fact that Jack Newby fell, losing five points in the 300-yard dash, the Mustangs would have finished on top. In addition, the Andover meet was postponed for two weeks on account of a siege of scarlet fever in that city. When it was finally announced that the meet would be held, the team had only three days to prepare, having been out of training for ten days. This had a great effect on the outcome, as the boys were naturally in poor condition for running.

Captain Fritz Sabbow, an inspiring leader, was one of the best 600-yard sprinters in the state.

The Medford High Basketball Team had a good season, despite the fact that it lost seven out of the 16 games played. Four of the games could very easily have been won. Although it did have bad luck, the Mustangs finished in a second place in the league standing. Jim Larson, John Cervone, and Leo Pollino usually leading the offense, were the high scorers in most of the games. The final game of the season with Lowell proved a walkaway for the Mustangs, as they ran up their highest score of the season. Displaying a fine brand of basketball and a great deal of teamwork, they brought down the curtain on the 1942 season by playing the type of game of which they were capable.

SKI CLUB

The Ski Club was enlarged this year to include over 50 new members. These members were enthusiastic and eager for competition, but due to lack of snow, the Club's activities have been somewhat limited. Throughout the past season, however, the Ski Club has been very successful in creating a greater interest for skiing in the school. There has been a marked improvement in the skill of the novices, and the older members continue to heap up honors for the school.

The officers were President, Francis Whitten; Vice President, John Whalen; Secretary, Beverly Taylor; Treasurer, Marjory Moran; and Faculty Adviser, Mr. Noble.

After completing such a fine season, the Ski Club looks forward to a bright future filled with even greater accomplishments.

This year without any outstanding star, Miss Neilson did an excellent job of building a team which played as a closely knit unit. Although a new sport, only recently introduced, field hockey is growing in popularity. At the beginning of the fall season, the girls who report for first practice are divided into class teams, and later the varsity team is chosen from these groups. This year the team played Arlington, Malden, and Winchester; it won one game and lost two.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

This year Medford High School's Softball Team enjoyed a most successful season. The practice was well attended, and the team won three hard-fought contests. Among those winning letters were Elena Patavano, Mary Simone, Phyllis Corbin, Doris Bizier, Dorothy McInnis, Lois Shiebler, Natalie Pickett, and Mary Reynolds. Other Seniors on the squad were Catherine Patalano, Shirley Sullivan, Julie Baldini, and Eileen Sullivan.

After three practice games the team completed the following schedule:

Medford 20—	Winchester 16
Medford 4—	Revere 26
Medford 16—	Somerville 11
Medford 23—	Belmont 10

With many good players remaining in the line-up the prospects for next year are bright.

GIRLS' VARSITY TENNIS

The Tennis Squad, chosen from the intermediate group, consists of a number of girls who are the outstanding tennis players in the school. These girls are guided by the excellent coaching of Miss Neilson and the efficient management of Ruth Hall.

Lead by the hard drives of Captain Marguerite Baeyens, the girls' Tennis Team smashed its way through a successful season. This year the team started in the fall of 1941 by defeating Somerville, and continued the good work in matches against Malden, Newton, Arlington, and Melrose.

The Riding Club has, since its organization in 1939, steadily increased in numbers and enjoyment. The fall of 1941 and the spring of 1942 saw many Medford High School girls, clad in smart riding habits, astride the fine horses of the Pine Banks Riding School.

The officers were Co-Managers, Janet Blackington and Edna Yeomans; Coach, Elizabeth A. Neilson.

The club took many interesting rides in the Melrose woods and the surroundings of Pine Banks. Numerous breakfast rides were delightful additions to the season's program.

Hoseback riding is an activity which may be enjoyed by an individual throughout most of the year. One may participate in this sport without dependence upon others.

Among the Senior riders were Josephine Amato, Madlyn Arcaro, Dorothy Brown, Ruth Cavanaguh, Dorothy Corbett, Lesley Cotter, Barbara Dowell, Evelyn Griffin, Eileen Howard, Helen Kelly, Ruth MacFarlane, Mary Plummer, Irene Ruhl, Janet Shultz, Helen Sullivan, Elizabeth Urben, Elizabeth Vallance, Mary Walsh, and Mary Weiden.

Friendliness . . . the gain of deeper knowledge . . . the interchange of opinion . . . the opportunity for self-expression . . . all may be found in our student organizations, and we, as Seniors, remember with real pleasure

Activities

Day In - and - Day Out

at Medford High School

STUDENT CABINET

It is one of the duties of the Cabinet to receive bills passed in the House of Delegates. After a discussion, a vote is taken, and if the bill is passed, it is then sent to Mr. Kendall for his approval.

The Cabinet, a clearing-house for club ideas, assists in various projects which concern the student body as a whole.

The world conditions of the past year have produced their effects on the Student Cabinet, and a novel plan was introduced as a result of the crisis. Inspired by a patriotic duty, the Cabinet began the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps in the school. The Cabinet held assemblies for each class to make this decision known to the student body. The overwhelming response of the students and faculty has proved to be most gratifying. Several hundred dollars worth of stamps and bonds were sold each week, and thus, led by a motion of the Student Cabinet, the entire school availed themselves of an easy opportunity to help America to victory.

This year also, the Cabinet continued its management of the Graduation Club at the Medford Savings Bank. The deposit on hand totaled over $4500.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES

The House of Delegates is made up of one representative from each homeroom in the school and one chosen by the post-graduates. These representatives receive suggestions for better student government from their homeroom members, and these suggestions are carried into action, if possible, by the House of Delegates.

The most important activity of the House this year has been in connection with National Defense. The members have acted as agents for selling Defense Stamps and Bonds in their own homerooms. A drive has also been conducted to collect and sell waste paper, the proceeds of which are to be used to benefit the entire student body.

The members also act as ticket agents for various activities, particularly the Senior Class play.

The officers were President, Philip Sanford; Vice President, Pearl Ward; Secretary, Jean Frazier, Faculty Advisers, Mr. Pidgeon and Miss Webber.

VOCATIONAL STUDENT COUNCIL

In spite of the shortened school hours, the changes in programs, and the special war-time work that the Vocational School had to assume, the Vocational School Student Council managed to hold meetings and sponsored some surprisingly outstanding programs. The two most prominent undertakings of the Council were its campaign for the sale of Defense Stamps and Bonds and its drive for perfect teeth among the boys of the school. In the sale of Defense Stamps and Bonds, the Vocational School surpassed every other school in the city, while the drive for perfect teeth has resulted in complete success.

The officers were President, John Feeley; Vice President, Francis Cahalan; Secretary, Henry Jordan; Treasurer, Clement Libby.

BIOGRAPHY GIRLS

PROTECTIVE DEPARTMENT

The Protective Department is made up of more than 150 students who are assigned to posts at all the entrances of the school. Their duties are to assist strangers, to watch the lockers, and to keep the corridors clean.

At recess, P. D.'s are stationed on all floors and at the entrances to all buildings. Their chief task at this time is to guard the corridors of those buildings where classes are being conducted.

This year the members were identified by blue and white pins bearing the dates 1941-1942, and the P. D. had a number.

The captains of the Protective Department were Margaret Murphy, Miriam Meyer, Dorothea Mistretta, and Jean Tidd. Their duties were to see that all members were at their posts, to provide substitutes in case of the absence of a P. D., and to assist the Faculty Adviser, Mr. Pidgeon.

Once again the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Schoonmaker, proved itself an outstanding musical organization. Playing at numerous functions and for various organizations in Medford, it showed the beneficial effects of its intensive training. The members of the orchestra, participating in a vigorous schedule of afternoon rehearsals each week, displayed a fine spirit in giving its best efforts day after day. Thus this year's orchestra, with the same untiring effort, has continued in the footsteps of its predecessors.

ORCHESTRA

BAND

Medford High School is very proud of the band, which, under the able and efficient leadership of Mr. Ralph I. Schoonmaker, continues to live up to the high standards set by previous bands. At the football games in the fall, the band, as usual, was a fine example of a well-drilled and perfectly trained organization. It made a striking appearance with its conventional blue and gold uniforms flashing down the field. In addition it played at the weekly football rallies, assemblies, the Annual Music Festival, various concerts, and many other school and civic events.

ART CLUB

The Medford High School Senior Art Club was organized this year by a group of talented art students anxious to further their study of art.

The officers were President, George Binda; Vice President, Dorothy Brown; Secretary, Barbara Dowell; Treasurer, Elizabeth Valance; Junior Representative, Leonard Anderson; Faculty Adviser, Miss Mary Pratt.

The Club affords an excellent opportunity for students to study and to improve their knowledge of Art History. The Club also encourages visits to art museums, lectures, and fashion shows.

The meetings, held weekly, are instructive in student modeling, still life, and poster work.

In addition to benefiting members, this newly-formed Club has aided many organizations. Club members have designed and made pins for the benefit of the Cardiac Clinic; they have also patterned place cards and interior decorations for several banquets.

The Art Club's social activities include an enjoyable Christmas Party and numerous birthday parties tended to its members.

In appreciation to Miss Pratt, the members of the Art Club express their heartiest thanks for an enjoyable year and wish the future Art Clubs great success.

M. H. S. GIRLS' CLUB

The Girls' Club has enjoyed great activity this year in many different fields. This was due to the co-operation of all its members in developing the interests of the Club, and participating whole-heartedly in its activities.

The officers were President, Ruth Hall; Vice President, Joan Moore; Recording Secretary, Janet Schultz; Corresponding Secretary, Betty Morgan; Treasurer, Ruth Launie; Faculty Advisers, Miss Junkins and Mrs. Bagley.

The Club year began in May 1941, when the annual banquet was held at the Belmont Springs Country Club. At this time the new officers and members were inducted. Early in the fall of 1941 the girls held a tea for their mothers in the Assembly Hall. Three new members were taken in at this time to demonstrate the impressive induction ceremonies to the mothers. At Christmas time the Girls' Club held the annual party for some of Medford's needy children. There was a lively marionette show, and Santa Claus himself presented toys and warm mittens to each of the little guests.

The Club was fortunate in having many interesting speakers this year, among them Lieut. Constance White of the Womens' Defense Corps, Mrs. Moore of The House in the Pines School, Miss Kelly and Miss Burke of our faculty, and Mr. Kendall, our Headmaster.

The Club wishes to thank our advisers for the immense amount of work that they have done in our behalf. Their work, advice, and friendship have made possible the Club's success.

The Business Girls' Club, composed of 65 Seniors interested in business careers, began in the early Spring so that the program and the committees could be well established and ready by September. This year's program began in May 1941 with the election of officers and the introduction of new members, after which each officer received a scroll upon which her duties were inscribed. New members were presented with roses and pencils upon which their names and the name of the club were engraved.

The officers were President, Marie Federici; Vice President, Shirley Sullivan; Corresponding Secretary, Lois Malatesta; Recording Secretary, Phyllis Hathaway; Treasurer, Louise Walker; Faculty Advisers, Miss Hubbard and Miss MacBrayne.

At Christmas, according to an annual custom, the girls collected toys and dolls to play Santa Claus to Medford's needy children. Among the interesting speakers at their meetings were Miss Dilley from Katherine Gibbs Business School, Mr. Ferber of the Chandler School, and Mr. Kendall, our Headmaster.

This year has been happy and successful, and each girl now feels greater confidence in her own ability as she prepares to enter the business world.

BUSINESS GIRLS' CLUB

TECHNICAL CLUB

The Technical Club has had one of its biggest and most enterprising years in spite of its unusually small membership of 60.

The officers were President, Fritz Sabbow; Vice President, George Jones; Secretary, Richard Jones; Treasurer, Francis W. Doherty; Faculty Adviser, Charles H. Rogers.

During the course of this year, Mr. Rogers made arrangements for the Club to visit the Tufts College scientific laboratories and the Massachusetts Radio School of Boston. Motion pictures were presented on "The Factory Developments of Automobile Construction" and on "The Shop Methods of the General Electric Company."

In addition, there was a decidedly popular mathematical treasure hunt, in which all the members took part. The first three boys to solve the unique problem were awarded prizes.

Among the interesting speakers who addressed the Club was Mr. George Giles of the Building Commission of the Medford Public Schools, whose subject was "The Technical Aspects of Building Management."

The outstanding event of the year was the annual banquet which was held early in May.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Many members of the club have contributed to the holiday programs presented in classrooms and in The Chevalier Memorial Auditorium.

The officers were President, Mary O'Donnell; Vice President, Paul McInnis; Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Meyer.

Prominent participants in Dramatic Club work have been Marie Connors, Dorothy Cutter, Mildred Dodge, Olive Hatch, Arthur Jones, Martha Lynch, Robert Norse, Joan O'Leary, Morill Ring, Janet Schultz, Mary Belle Stevenson, Richard Berg, and Barbara Hare.

A Modern Thanksgiving, a one-act play was, presented in the auditorium by the following cast:

Mr. Joseph Matthews	Joseph Pigott
Mrs. Matthews	Mary Meyer
Hugh	Walter Kisluk
Janet	Alice Driscoll
Robert	Philip Jackson
Radio Announcer	Paul Lothrop
Goodman Jenkins	Charles Parks
Prudence	Nancy Clough
Faith	Phyllis Clark
John	Donald Chisholm
Children	Genevieve Canty
	Barbara Harrison

On Thursday and Friday evenings, May 7 and 8, The Copperhead, a four-act drama by Augustus Thomas, was presented.

A stock of scenery has been started by members of the club. With the cooperation of the Three P's, Dramatic Society of Tufts College, much has already been constructed.

The Club is under the direction of Mr. John A. Ricker, Jr.

CURRENT EVENTS GROUP

The Current Events Group was new to the school, having been organized by Mr. Noble this year for the first time. There were a score of active and enthusiastic members who met every two weeks for a lively discussion of the modern news.

As a basis for their talks, they used the monthly Current Events Magazine. The topics for their debates were taken from this publication. The formation of the Club was occasioned by the urgent need of some extra-curricular group in which modern history and events might be discussed. Time is not available in the regular American History classes for these lengthy and detailed discussions.

Senior members were Joseph Buono, William Christiansen, Saul Cooper, John Cullen, Jean Davidson, Marie Dittami, Barbara Dowell, Annabelle Eknoian, Rebecca Finn, David Ellis, Philip Hirrel, Saul Hirshberg, Ruth Hobart, Henry Mariani, William Mason, Marilene Meanor, Paul McGowan, Earl Patterson, Edward Pacious, Janet Schultz, Harold Shear, Robert Keating, and Edward Scanlon.

DECONTAMINATION SQUAD

The war emergency necessitated this year the formation of a trained group, experienced in the science of handling poisonous gases in the event of an air raid. Therefore, Mr. Pidgeon stepped into the gap and organized the Decontamination Squad. He selected 30 boys from his chemistry classes for the membership of the group. They were all students with an "A" average in the subject.

Three squads, each comprised of from eight to 10 boys, are in the charge of lieutenants, who are all teachers in some school of metropolitan Boston. The only Medford High representative is Mr. Hormel. The entire group, from the lieutenants down, went through classes and studied special courses, until they completely understood every available method of handling the gas. Special suits and masks were made for the boys, and the group is, indeed, one of which we can be justly proud.

CANTEEN GROUP

The junior and senior girls of Medford High are doing their part during this national emergency. They have formed a Junior Canteen Unit. Girls with high scholastic grades in foods and dietetics were chosen by Miss Baker and Miss Fuller. The Junior Canteen Group is under the supervision of the Medical Corps. The girls are taught types and methods of sanitation. The Canteen girls are trained to assist women in operation and equipment of stationary and mobile canteen units. These girls are also trained in selection, preparation, and service of food under emergency conditions. The members of the Junior Canteen Unit will wear smart blue uniforms and hats with white trimming. In case of any emergency, trained Canteen Units will be ready to give aid at all times.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

BOWLING

STAMP CLUB

The Stamp Club was organized in 1934 to further the love of stamp collecting and to aid its members in enlarging their collections.

The officers were President, Donald Crowther; Vice President, Leslie Morash; Secretary, John Matthews; Treasurer, David Watson.

This past year we had talks by several members of the club interested in various phases of stamp collecting. Question contests and group discussions were also conducted. In the spring we held a stamp exhibition in the school library. With the help of Miss Adams, our adviser, we have tried to maintain a spirit of friendliness and have attempted to make our meetings educational and beneficial.

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club was organized this year due to a revived interest in debating among some of the students. Under the able direction of Mr. Ricker, about 20 students were trained, and the teams were formed for interclass debates. Debates on topics of the day were held with the Current Events Group and the History Club. Some of the discussion subjects during the year were "Compulsory Military Training for High School Students," and "A United States of the World as a Solution for World Peace."

The officers were Chairman, Joseph Courtney; Vice Chairman, Stella Baronian and Janet Schultz; Secretary, Robert Clark; Treasurer, Marie Sylvestro; Transportation Managers, Chester Beattie and Joseph Sabia.

Later in the year, after taking part in a series of lengthy elimination contests, the members of the Club conducted debates with neighboring high schools. Our teams made consistently fine showings in all of these debates.

HONOR LEGION

Tramp! Tramp! Tramp! The even tread of marching feet in uniform rows; the swish and rustle of navy skirts as they contact singing winds and swinging hands. Tramp! Tramp! Tramp! The GIRLS are marching, for something new in school activities has been added to the football program of Medford High School. It is called the Honor Legion, and it is destined to become the rousing spirit behind the teams.

The Honor Legion, under the expert direction of Mr. Ralph I. Schoonmaker assisted by two faculty advisers, Miss Neilson and Miss Dolan, consists of 80 girls, 40 Seniors and 40 Juniors. These girls parade with the High School Band between the halves; their snappy blue and white uniforms and dexterous marching supply color and interest to the game. It is Mr. Schoonmaker's belief that by limiting the troop to Seniors and Juniors, he will always have half of the preceding trained group ready to help instruct inexperienced new-comers the following year.

The requirements of this impressive marching unit are based on the following points; scholastic rating, musical knowledge, and personal ability. The meetings, held once a week, are regular squad drills sessions in which the girls are taught the fundamentals of marching and formations.

In addition to football games, it is planned that the troop will march on Patriot's Day and Memorial Day.

One of the highlights of the football season occurred during the Thanksgiving game when the Honor Legion climaxed the season by a very patriotic flag formation while the band, grouped around, played God Bless America. Here's wishing the Honor Legion great success in the years to come!

In January of this year the new Co-operative Store Training Course was introduced and twenty-five carefully selected pupils given an opportunity to enroll. These pupils are given training in school to fit them for selling positions, and are given practical experience in stores afternoons, Saturdays, and during special sales periods, such as Christmas and Easter. They are required to have an average of at least fifteen hours of school work a week, and must have an equal number of hours in the stores. This course meets the requirements of the George-Deen Act and is partly supported by federal and state funds. The teacher-coordinator is Miss Sara Mosher. The girls have been working at the C. F. Hovey Company, Jordan Marsh Company, William Filene's Sons Company, R. H. White Company, Sears Roebuck & Company, Conrad & Company, and several other department and specialty stores.

RETAIL SELLING

HISTORY CLUB

The History Club has enjoyed a very pleasant year under the leadership of its adviser Miss Florence R. Kelly.

The officers were President, Mary Reed; Vice President, Rita Vas; Secretary, Jane Cronin; Treasurer, Miriam Flanagan.

Club activities have included lectures and motion pictures, a Christmas party, and a banquet.

The Club has been most fortunate in having among its speakers Mrs. Draper of the Medford Chapter of the American Red Cross and Mr. Weston, Principal of the Roberts Junior High School, who gave a very interesting lecture on Boston's Chinatown. Mr. Paul Eliot and Dr. Etz, both noted lecturers, were also included in this year's program.

This year's members have done their share toward making the History Club of the Medford High School an active and permanent organization.

FRENCH TROUPE

This year the organization of one of the most unusual groups at M. H. S., the French Troupe started under the direction of Miss E. T. Loftus. The Troupe is made up of students especially interested in oral French, chosen by the French teachers of the school in competitive tryouts.

Under the guidance of Miss Loftus, the Troupe has produced and presented two unusual French plays. One of these, Un Bureau de Telegraphie was a sprightly comedy; the other, the appealing Little Red Riding Hood. Both plays, together with an entertaining variety program, were presented at the Junior High Schools of the city for the French classes at Medford High.

The Troupe works entirely with French dramatics, writing as well as producing parts of its program.

These Seniors make up this unique group: Guiliana Baldwin, Gladys Barr, Flora Capabianco, Constance Carell, Robert Clark, Lorraine De Lisle, William De Scenza, Olive Hatch, Margaret O'Hara, Edna Yoemans, and Harold Shear.

May the successful 1941-1942 season forecast a bright future for Medford High's newest organization, The French Troupe.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club, under the supervision of Mr. Horwood, is composed of a number of students who are interested in cameras and in all types of photography. The purpose of the club is to further student interest in photography and its possibilities as a career.

The officers were President, Edward Meisse; Secretary-Treasurer, Helen M. Baronian; Faculty Adviser, Mr. Horwood.

The Club has enjoyed many interesting programs this year. At one meeting, Mr. Galligan gave a lecture on portraiture, and at another, Miss Burke showed her travel films.

Included also in the Club's activities were its pictures of various school events and its ever-popular contributions to school organizations.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

It is the aim of the Vocational School to fit boys for useful employment through the development of the occupational skill required for the performance of satisfactory work under actual employment conditions in the following trades: automobile, cabinet making, electricity, machine shop, painting and decorating, printing, and sheet metal.

One half of the time is devoted to actual shop work and the other half to related and academic work. The laboratory method of instruction which is used in the related classes is very closely correlated with the shop work. This close tie-up assures a thorough training in shop and technical information.

The school attempts to prepare the boy morally, intellectually, and physically for the vocation for which he seems to be best fitted by nature, ability, and opportunity; at the completion of his course the school places the student in the industry trained for, keeps in touch with his progress, and encourages his promotion.

Appreciation

To Miss Lyons . . .

Our biggest bouquet and deepest gratitude go to Miss Lyons, for she is largely responsible for the success of The Blue and White. Her patient assistance and sound advice have set an inspiring example for the entire staff. Miss Lyons, we thank you for your able guidance and untiring efforts in our behalf.

May We Also Thank . . .

Miss Daggett for the kind assistance she has rendered to the Biography Girls in their selection of appropriate tributes for each member of the Senior Class, Mr. Pidgeon for his efficient organization of the various groups for the Yearbook pictures. To these people who have so unselfishly given their time to work with us, we extend our sincere thanks and whole-hearted appreciation.
